

The Big Questions of US History

Question #1 Have our Puritan values been a constructive or destructive force throughout US history?

Question #2 Does American history demonstrate the spirit of optimism or the sorrow of disillusionment?

Question #3 Throughout American history, has there been an expansion or contraction of freedoms/rights over time?

Question #4 How does American history reveal the tension between our desire to be an individual and our commitment to the community (the American Dilemma)?

Question #5 Throughout American history, how has the written word been both a cause and consequence of war and conflict?

Question #6 How have historical events shaped women's changing roles and identities in American society?

Question #7 What lessons do the great personalities of American history teach us about good and evil?

Question #8 Does American history reflect the achievement or failure of the American Dream?

Question #9 Are diverse native, immigrant or other minority groups victims or heroes of American history?

Your Question?